sary to sign the contracts for the ensuing year.

The Executive Board of the Brotherhood of Tailors and United Garment Workers met yesterday afternoon in Walhalla Hall, in Orchard-st. It was held in Cooper Union Saturday night had been postned until Monday night. The Board say that 1,000 strikers will return to work early next week. There are, it is said, 630 contractors in New-York, and 1,600 in all, including Newark and other places, affected by the strike. Nearly four hundred contractors in New-York, it is alleged, have signed the strikers' agreement papers for the coming year.

There were rumors of police interference with the sirikers yesterday, and considerable excitement was ecasioned when one of their principal leaders, Meyer Schoenfeld, was summoned before Acting Chief Conlin late in the afternoon. He was accompanied by Thomas J. Bradley, a lawyer. Just what took place at the conference is not known, but it was stated authoritatively at Police Headquarters that certain men representing the contractors had Conlin and represented that there would be trouble to-day among the strikers, Schoenfeld is a personal friend of the Acting Chief, and the latter sent for him to secure assurances that contractors' representations were unfounded. Notwithstanding this explanation, it is known hat two policemen from the Eldridge-st. station went to the headquarters of the Settlement Com-strikers to deeds of violence, which have not yet en committed. Schoenfeld remarked to some of his friends that the few contractors who had not given in yet were making their last bluff.

According to the agreement which the strikers say the contractors violated, the latter were to pay wages every Friday. Nearly 65 per cent of the men assert that back money is due them, and suits have been instituted against the delinquents. THE CONTRACTORS' VIEW OF THE CASE.

The State Board of Arbitration, composed of Commissioners Purcell, Feeney and Robertson, met yesterday at the Murcay Hill Hotel, to hear the contractors' side of the question in the clothing workers' sirike. The contractors were represented by Benjamin Witkewski, secretary of the Contractors' Mutual Protective Association, who was acompanied by two of the members, Isaac Lewis, No. 1 Hester-st., and Hyman Haft, No. 250 Seventh-st. Mr. Witkowski said: "Two or three weeks ago our employes sent us a circular concerning a new agree-ment to take the place of the one that expires in tember. The contractors considered the matter decided that there was time enough to act on it. Last Sunday word was sent around to all the shops to stop work at once, and the order was yed. He explained at length the points of difference between the contractors and the strikeers, and said the contractors could not get better terms from the manufacturers because there was no narmony in the trade.

The chair asked him if he had any remedy to suggest for the strike but to tight it out. He re-

The chair asked him if he had any remedy to suggest for the strike but so fight it out. He replied: "We have not. If the strikers succeed, New-York will lose the clothing trade, as it did the cloak business. This is not. he added, "a question of wages. The strikers want to break up the contract system to kill the goose that have the go been eggs. Commissioner Feeney asked him if the present proponed agreement would not last. He replied: "I do not think it would: I look for a greater strike than ever within two months. There is only one way to settle the trouble; that is for peace to take the place of hatred, or both sides will be wiped out."

Chairman Purcell announced that the Board would not hold any more public sessions for the present, and the proceed igs closed.

COXEY FOR GOVERNOR.

OHIO POPULISTS NOMINATE HIM.

THE BURLESQUE "GENERAL" OF THE "COMMON-WEAL ARMY" WITH HIS GOOD ROADS AND

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 2.—The Populists of Ohio have nominated a full State ticket, with "General" J. S. Coxey as the candidate for Governor. The platform reflects Coxey's political views, and in this respect differs from the work of the Kentucky Democratic State Convention, which nominated free-silver man for Governor on a sound-money platform. There was a sensational scene at the morning's session of the convention when the Committee on Resolutions reported. The plank indors ing Coxey's ron-interest-bearing bond and good roads bils was placed at the bottom of all other demands, and this apparent slight put upon the nest prominent of Coxey's schemes proved a red flag in the face of his followers, and one of his supporters, J. G. Fitzsimmons, a Cleveland manu-facturer, wanted this rectified, and in order to place Coxey on the high eminence which his admirers thought he should occupy, Fitzsimmons made a mo-

Judge E. D. Stark, of Cleveland, a lawyer, opposed the motion. He thought Coxey's whims had already received enough recognition in the reference eye, and he denounced the lawyer members of the convention and charged them with manipulating the convention to the detriment of the farmer and labor delegates. A lawyer delegate named Smith defended the bar generally, and said that most ever, had the convention, and his good-roads scheme and non-interest-bearing bond bill were made the second plank in the platform.

The stage in the convention hall was decked with broomcorn and other products of the farm, and the The platform declares in favor of State control of silver; the enactment of a law which will make in-lawful any bond, note or mortgage or other obligation that shall be made payable in gold only; favors the immediate abolishment of the National banking system; denounces as treason the issuing of interest bearing bonds in time of peace or war, and "the subversion of the right of trial by jury," as in the Debs case; demands the nationalization of all public monopolies: favors the per diem service pension act, etc. President Cleveland and Senator Sherman are severely arraigned for their alleged subserviare severely arraigned for their alleged subserviency to the money power. A resolution was alopted extending fraternal greetings to Eugene V. Debsein this his hour of persecution and sacrifice. Judge E. D. Stark, of Cleveland, was a candidate for Governor against Coxey as the representative of those who opposed the "General's" schemes, but he received only a few votes. Coxey in an interview said he thought he had a fighting show of being elected, and said he would give the people his entire time. The bniance of the ticket is as follows: For Lieutenant-Governor, John H. Crafton, of Cincinnati, Treasurer, George W. Harper, of Green County: Attorney General, W. V. Baker, of Newark, Judge of the Supreme Court, E. D. Stark, of Coveyland, nember of Board of Fublic Works, William A. Gloyd, of Dennison. George A. Groot was indersed for United States Senator.

unemployed to the National Capital in March, 1884. He was born on Easter Sunday, April 16, 184. Snyder County, Penn. At an early age his parents moved to Kentucky, and the boy got his first lea-sons in borse-trading by hanging about the fairs at Lexington, in the State, it has been said that nament to-day something of religious fervor always entered into his equine enterprises, and he has never been known to swap a blind horse for a sound one. As his re-ligion increased, his prosperity in horse-dealing kept pace with it, and soon he became the owner of the famous Dixlana Stock Farm, in Lexington.

In the latter part of 183 his religious proclivities em to have got the better of the fascination seem to have got the better of the fascinations of horse trading and raising, and Mr. Coxey decided to do something for the horse in general and for his unemployed fellow-man in particular. He set to work to collect a huge army of the unemployed, march to Washington and demand on the sleeps of the Capitol that the Government immediately issue frequency of on on-interest-bearing bonds and distribute them among his followers, who would at once go to work on an extensive system of caborate highways that should benefit horse and man. Coxey's "Army of the Commonwealth" reached Washington. Some of it is said to be there still but Coxey went home, people thought, to sink bat into horse-dealing and oblivion. But they were mistaken. Last fall he was the Populist candidate for Congress in his district, but was heaten.
